Assessment test „TestAS“ for refugees

With TestAS you can increase your eligibility for the subject, demonstrate your academic interests to universities and increase your chances of being admitted to university. If documentation regarding the courses attended at university or school certificates are missing (i.e. lost while fleeing), then the test may be used as a plausibility check. The test is also used for admission to preparatory programmes.

The TestAS for refugees is free of charge for the test takers and may be sat in German, English and Arabic.
